\textbf{A}

Carved out, written still unsaid

I was once a child
More than we could choose
Worries passing through the night

Feathers fall around our heads

Sit with me a while

Fingers turn to blue

While I'm sleeping

While I'm dreaming
Dreams move the earth like flowers grow
Stars spin around and planets move
You told me so
I'm bound to you

I thought I needed you but I don't know
Tell me you know what is and isn't true

Beauty in the lie
Read it from the sky
